Judge mandates resignation

Bowler's sentence for fraud also includes 2 years probation

By Mike Myers
Staff writer

EAST ST. LOUIS — Paul Ray Bowler has resigned his position on the Granite City School Board under the terms of his sentence for his part in real estate fraud in 1984.

On Monday, U.S. District Judge William Stiehl sentenced Bowler to two years of probation with the stipulation that Bowler resign from the school board, serve 10 hours of community service and pay the U.S. government $11,611.76 in restitution.

Bowler pleaded guilty in February 1989 to a single federal felony count of making a false statement on an application for an insurance by the Federal Housing Administration.

Bowler submitted his resignation from the board to Granite City School Superintendent Gib Walmsley on Monday.

Granite City School Board President Roy Koberna said he expected the board to accept the resignation at its regular meeting Tuesday night.

Koberna said the board has 30 days to accept a resignation and he would expect the board to take some time to allow interested persons to submit applications to the board.

If the Granite City board doesn't fill the position in 30 days, Koberna said, the task of choosing a new board member goes to Madison County Regional Superintendent of Schools Harry A. Briggs for 15 days. If not filled during that time, the position would then go to the voters in the November election.

Bowler had been indicted in December 1988 on four counts of making false statements on FHA insurance loan applications. Under a plea agreement Monday by his attorney, Bowler was sentenced to two years of probation with the U.S. attorney's office.

Bowler was a principal witness in the prosecution in the trial of Granite City real estate broker Gayle Flood. She was found guilty Aug. 6 of the charges against her, one of whom was conspiring to defraud the United States and six felony counts of making false statements on applications for government-insured loans.

Stiehl, who was also the presiding judge at Flood's trial, said his sentence of Bowler was based in part on having watched Bowler spend three days on the witness stand during Flood's trial.

Stiehl told Bowler, "The role you played (in the crime), while an active role, was not an overriding role."

Flood is scheduled to be sentenced Sept. 29.

In statements before the sentencing, both Bowler and Clyde Kuehn, his attorney, stressed that Bowler had done everything the U.S. attorneys had asked of him and that he had never lied about what he did.

"Even when I talked to Mrs. (Robyn) Williams of the FBI, the very first time, I never denied what I did," Bowler said. "... I made a very, very bad error."

Kuehn said Bowler's cooperation with the U.S. attorneys had not been done grudgingly, but had been done almost with commitment.

Both Bowler and Kuehn said Bowler's employment with the Alton School District, teaching students with behavioral disorders at Alton High School, had been delayed because of a recent article on the case in the Alton Telegraph.

Bowler expected to be hired at the next meeting of the Alton School Board, but the board delayed its decision until a special meeting that was scheduled last night (Tuesday). Bowler resigned his position with the Madison County Regional Superintendent in Godfrey based on his expected employment by Alton.

After the sentencing, Stiehl said, "The court is not expressing any opinion as to whether Mr. Bowler is employable or should be employed by the Alton School District."

Letter of resignation

To the public and Granite City District 9 School Board:

With deep regret, but for the public good and the good of our school district, I hereby resign as a school board member effective immediately.

This decision came with difficulty. During the past three years, I have been proud to share with you the several positive developments in our school district, including fostering administrative integrity; closing the high school campus to improve attendance and decrease delinquency; and initiating DARE, a anti-drug and alcohol program for you. These are the types of achievements voters wanted me to be involved with, and it is difficult for me to withdraw from the board now as it resides beyond these endeavors toward even greater accomplishments.

However, the error in judgment that I made in a real estate transaction has compromised my effectiveness as a school board member. Because I cannot allow any child, or adult, to think my public service is anything less than exemplary, it is with a sense of deep personal loss that I must resign from my position as a school board member.

To everyone who voted for me, and who've offered their support in this difficult period of my life, I sincerely thank you for your understanding. You have bolstered by faith in the human spirit, shown forgiveness and for that I am forever in your debt.

And to every person in the district, for the mistake I've made, I hope you will accept my sincerest regrets and apology.

Heat forces school schedule changes

GRANITE CITY — A "heat schedule" is going into effect today, Wednesday, in the Granite City and Madison school systems.

"Because of the excessive heat that is expected for the next few days, a decision was made to operate the schools on an emergency heat schedule beginning Wednesday, Aug. 29, and through and including Tuesday, Sept. 4," said Gib Walmsley, Granite City superintendent of schools.

On Sept. 4, the first day after Labor Day, there will still be a heat schedule. We plan to go to the regular schedule on Wednesday, Sept. 5, if the temperature will allow."

Daily schedules Wednesday, Aug. 29, through Tuesday, Sept. 4, will be as follows:

"All of the District 9 elementary schools, 8:05 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. — Granite City High School, 7 a.m. to 2 p.m.; Coolidge Junior High School, 7 a.m. to 1 p.m."

"Grigsby Junior High School (an air-conditioned building), 8:30 a.m. to 2:35 p.m."

"All elementary bus passenger pickups will begin one-half hour earlier than normal."

All Granite City High School and Coolidge bus pickups will begin one hour earlier than usual.

Grigsby Junior High bus pickups will begin one-half hour later than normal.

"These are the earliest dismissal times possible because of existing state laws on bus safety," Walmsley said.

Any additional information will be carried by the following television and radio stations: KTVI (Channel 2), KSDK (Channel 5) and WGN-TV, WYTV, KMOX, KXOK and WIL AM and FM.

Dan Kostencki, Madison superintendent of schools, said a similar heat schedule will be in effect from Wednesday, Aug. 29, through Tuesday, Sept. 4.

A decision on whether to extend the early-dismissal schedule beyond Sept. 4 will be made in Madison at the end of this week.

Madison High School will operate from 6:55 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

The hours at the Madison Middle School will be 7:25 a.m. until 1 p.m.

At Blair and Harris elementary schools in Madison, classes will be held from 7:40 a.m. to 1:40 p.m.

The city's two Catholic schools, St. Elizabeth and Holy Family, have said they will not go to a heat schedule, but will not notify the public if that decision changes.

PLEASE DON'T GO, MOM: Five-year-old Aaron Papp isn't sure kindergarten will be all that much fun without his mom, Sandy Papp. Tuesday was his first day of school at Parkview Elementary School on Maryville Road.

Neighbors raising stink about dog and cat odors

By Andy Siering
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Florence Finazzo, of the 2800 block of Ralph Street, is raising a stink about a stench coming from the house next door, and her efforts may be rewarded with the sweet smell of success.

Finazzo had called city authorities, the Illinois Department of Public Health and U.S. Rep. Jerry Costello to complain about the odor of dog and cat excrement emanating from a house owned by Jack Frank, 2808 Ralph Street. "It's just the wrong way," Finazzo and her husband, Frank, can't sit outside on their patio.

"We can't have company," she complained. "We used to have barbecue parties, but that anymore because nobody can stand the odor." I don't think they have the right to smell up the neighborhood like that."

The odor is definitely overpowering when one is downwind as a reporter discovered Monday afternoon.

Finazzo had gotten no help from the state or from Costello. "They told us we're going to have to go through the city," she said.

But under an agreement hammered out Tuesday morning, Karbarski will clean the outside of his house to, as legal bureaucratise puts it, "abate the nuisance."

"Everything should be cleaned up and taken care of by next Tuesday," said City

Finazzo claims there are at least 25 dogs and cats living in the house, and that Karbarski and his wife occupy a camping trailer behind the house.

Finazzo says there are currently six animals now living in the house, although he admits there were more than twice as many at one time.

Karbarski also denies that he and his wife are living in the trailer and says they live down the street with his father-in-law.

Paint peeling from the house's eaves and elsewhere, and its gutters are falling down. Underbrush is piled up in several yards around the house and there are five derelict vehicles on the property.

Karbarski says he is fixing up the inside of the house, but is handicapped by poor finances and a serious heart condition that limits the amount and type of work he can do.

"I'm renovating my house, trying to fix it up," he said. "It smells a little right now," he conceded, but he said he and his wife are trying to find homes for the remaining animals.

"I'm doing as much as I can, as fast as I can," Karbarski said.

As for the camper, he said, "All I use it for is when I get too tired from work ing on the house, I go sit down in it to rest."

A power line runs from the house to the camper.

Serum said the Karbarskis' alleged occupancy of the camper was a violation of the zoning ordinance at the address.

But he said the matter of animals and excrement inside the house would be taken care of by Karbarski, under their agreement. If it isn't, he said, "We will seek an immediate injunction and get him to comply."

Serum said he was relying on Karbarski's "holding up his end of the bargain."

Building Inspector John Jakich said the camper in the Karbarski's backyard is a violation of zoning laws. He said he would cite the Karbarskis for violation of the zoning code, and said they would have 30 days to appeal his decision before the Board of Zoning Appeals.

Then on Sept. 26, Mario will hold a demonstration at the Pines Inn Beach Free Library in Oakwood Park.

Missouri uses video to aid DUI crackdown

By Lois Kendall
Staff writer

Missouri police officers have a new weapon in their war against drunken drivers.

Through a program called "Actua Eye on DUI," specially equipped cars are being permanently equipped with video cameras. The cameras will record encounters with drivers suspected of being under the influence of alcohol, drugs or both.

The cameras are set up so police can trail a suspected drunken driver and film the car on the move.

The videotaping continues as the officer interviews the suspect and administers a roadside sobriety test. An audio recorder accompanies the video unit.

Actua Life & Casualty Co., through Mothers Against Drunk Driving, has provided Missouri with 18 of the Panasonic video cameras to the St. Louis Police Department, six to the Missouri State Highway Patrol and five to the St. Louis County Police Department.

Lt. Col. Raymond Lauer, deputy chief of the St. Louis Police Bureau of Operations sees the new equipment as a valuable tool in police department efforts to keep drunken drivers off the road.

"We have used a video camera, the BATmobile (blood-alcohol-test mobile) and it has had the tendency to make individuals recognize their impairment," Lauer said. "This results in more guilty pleas, fewer officers tied up in court and more officers on the street."

Prior to the police department's acquisition of the BATmobile, the conviction rate for intoxicated drivers was 30 to 40 percent. Lauer said in 1989, when the video camera was used with the BATmobile, the conviction rate was raised to 98.8 percent.

Actua Life & Casualty originated the "Actua Eye on DUI" program July 4, 1989, in Texas. Coincidentally, the first MADD chapter was formed in 1983.

Since then, Actua has provided the video kits, at a cost of about $1,000 per kit, to 72 law enforcement agencies in 32 cities across the country.

To receive the units, cities must have a MADD chapter or a local organization strongly supporting the program. The local police must emphasize DUI (driving under the influence) enforcement.

Susan Jasinski, spokesman for Actua, said in a recent publication in which she was writing, "We reduce auto insurance claims by $1.6 billion a year. Such a reduction would help to control auto and health insurance premiums, she said.

According to MADD statistics for last year, at least one third of Missouri's traffic fatalities

Arrested after accident

Richard A. Robitsch, 26, of Columbia, Ill., was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol after he was arrested for leaving the scene of an accident Aug. 27.

A policeman responding to a call about a car accident found a mishap scene on the parking lot of Len's Amoco station, 2200 Pontoon Road, saw Robitsch driving a car matching the description of the one involved in the accident.

Catching up with and stopping Robitsch in his Pontoon, Robitsch and Illinois 3, the policeman reported finding fresh paint scrapes on the bumper of the car. He also observed that the driver appeared to be having trouble walking, and found three un-

Bell raises pay phone reward

ST. LOUIS — Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. has announced it is doubling the maximum reward to $1,000 from $500 for finding a lost pay phone that will lead to prosecutions of pay telephone theft and vandalism.

"We started this program Aug. 18, 1987, to help ensure our customers always will have access to pay phones, especially in the event of emergencies," said Mike Miodunki, area manager of public communications, sales and administration for Southwestern Bell.

The vandalism and theft cost Southwestern about $150,000 last year and "the 1990 figures are expected to be higher than those recorded when the reward program was first initiated," Miodunki said.

Since the program started, 22 cases have been reported and nearly $2,000 awarded, including $750 last year.

Nurses teaching nurses SEMC program makes lifetime teachers

School may be out for two dozen nurses at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, but the teaching will never stop.

Each year from being a student for a day to now, the nurses are here.

The 24 nurses are recent graduates of SEMC's Preceptorship Development Program, an eight-hour workshop led by nursing educators Lora Wasko-Alexander and Mary Anne McClain of the Education Resources Department. Four workshops have been held.

The program provides formal training for nurses at SEMC who wish to give guidance to new graduate nurses and other new hires, to help make their transition into a different work environment and new job role as smooth as possible.

"I think the workshops have gone very well," Wasko-Alexander said. "It has given us a powerful indication, however, that a lot of work still needs to be done in the months and years to come, in regard to the orientation materials for the various nursing units."

Nurses from the Acute Medical Care Unit, Critical Care Unit, IV (intravenous) Therapy Department, Emergency Room, OB (obstetrics), Post-Anesthesia Recovery, and 4-Doctors' 5-Doctors' 6-Binney were represented in the workshops.

Said one participant, "Hopefully, a more structured preceptor program will make new nurses more comfortable and ease their transition into the job role. It will certainly benefit those acting as preceptors to provide a learning experience to beginning staff members."

Another nurse indicated the preceptor role used to lack clear goals. "This workshop was very helpful," she commented. "Before the workshop, I felt that the preceptorship was unorganized and didn't feel that the preceptor was getting a lot of extra support, wasn't clear on the goals that I should meet."

With the current program all doubt has been effectively removed and other problems have been erased.

"I really enjoyed the Preceptor Workshop," said Sandra Wrigley, IV Therapy, nurse. "The techniques and skills taught apply to every area of a person's life—not just in how to orient someone new but also how to get along with someone you work with. It really stressed the positive side of nursing."

Sandra Wrigley, IV Therapy, said the workshop provided her with "some very helpful communications techniques."

Another nurse, Gail Powers, Acute Medical Care Unit, called the workshop "very informative and helpful" and "strengthened my knowledge of nursing on all the units."

Ketra Johnson, OB, is another firm believer in the program. "The workshop will help me promote the best possible learning experience for the preceptor, as well as for myself as the preceptor," she said.

In the long run, organizers envision the program will have a positive effect on nursing retention.

According to Wasko-Alexander, the Preceptor Program not only serves as a support system for the preceptors, but for other nurses as well.

"We've asked that the various nursing units contact us when they hold their department meetings, so we can attend them to help make all the nurses aware of the role and responsibilities of the preceptors," she said.

As part of the program, Education Resources is publishing a quarterly newsletter, PDR (Preceptor Development Resources) Newsletter.

"We plan on having feature articles about topics that will promote leadership skills in preceptors, as well as preceptor development. We also will feature a different preceptor from the medical center in each edition so everyone can get to know one another better."

Other items in the newsletter will include: updated lists of preceptors as they continue to complete the workshop; open workshops shown in the immediate Metro East area; and announcements of quarterly meetings.

Those who have completed the workshop include:

Laura McIlroy, R.N., AMCU; Margaret Shipley, R.N., AMCU; Pat Glavin, R.N., ER.

Marie Reyne, R.N., 4-Drs.; Gayle Powers, R.N., AMCU; Julia Corey, R.N., 5-Drs.; Sandy Wrigley, IV Therapy; Ketra Johnson, R.N., OB; Karen J. Simon, R.N., PAR; Carolyn Hurst, R.N., CCU; Laura Carich, R.N., ER.

Cindy Grandadier, R.N., OB; Ann Lawson, R.N., IV Therapy; Brenda Cole, R.N., OR; Karen Graeling, R.N., PAR; Judy McDaniel, R.N., 3-Binney.

Nancy J. Bunte, R.N., OB; Josie Noud, OB; Marie Loftus, R.N., PAR; Sandy Gahrel, R.N., 3-Binney; and Barbara Burris, R.N., AMCU.

Foul play ruled out in death of Cahokia man

CHESTER — The cause of death of a Cahokia man found near Prairie Du Rocher remains undetermined but authorities ruled it accidental.

The body of Raymond C. Stark, 47, was found Saturday by two youths looking for a campsite about two miles north of the small town in northwestern Randolph County.

Stark worked as a bricklayer in Granite City.

Randolph County Coroner Neil Bircher said at an inquest on Aug. 23 that due to the advance decomposed state the body was found in, the cause of death could not be determined.

He added that authorities believe it was accidental and ruled out the possibility of foul play.

Bircher also said that traces of cocaine and alcohol were found in Stark's system. "A small amount of cocaine and traces of the two substances in his muscle tissue," he said.

Stark had been missing since July 4. According to a missing person's report his family filed with the Cahokia Police Department, Stark told his family that he was "going for a ride" and never returned.

He lived with his wife, three children and mother in a house in the 100 block of Kenneth Avenue in Cahokia.

Humane group hosts walk

The Madison County Humane Society is under way to "Pound the Pavement for Pound Puppies and Caged Cats" in its Building Fund Walk-A-Thon, to be held Saturday, Sept. 29, at Southern Illinois University in Edwardsville.

The Walk-A-Thon will benefit the Humane Society's Building Fund.

Walkers may choose either a six-mile or a three-mile route over the campus of SIU. Walkers will be asked to collect "pledges" of donations for every mile walked.

The first 150 walkers will receive Humane Society visors and bags, and the first 100 or more in pledges the day of the Walk-A-Thon will receive a free Madison County Humane Society T-shirt.

Children under the age of 14 will receive an educational coloring book.

Registration for the Walk-A-Thon will begin at 9:30 the morning of the event at the Religious Center on the Campus of SIU. Walkers are urged to walk during the day, but must be finished with the course by 2 p.m.

Alcohol a powerful depressant that fools

The following is by Dr. Lawrence Harmon, medical director of The Edgewood Program at Edgewood, a facility of St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Ethyl alcohol is a drug which can produce feelings of well-being, sedation, intoxication or unconsciousness, depending on the amount and the manner in which it is consumed.

A depressant, alcohol is so common that many people don't realize it is a powerful drug. Instead, they simply drink because they think.

Depressants relax the central nervous system and tend to slow down many body functions. Depressants affect that parts of the brain that keep us aware of what's going on around us (how much this affects our awareness depends on the dose, person and place).

When drinking exceeds individual limits, the alcohol concentrated in the blood has an immediate effect on the brain, resulting in:

• Poor judgment. Alcohol dulls areas of the brain that enable making sensible decisions.

• Slowed reaction time. Drinking slows reflexes and hinders coordination.

• Loss of concentration. Drinking can cause drowsiness and decrease alertness.

• Poor vision. Alcohol can cause double or multiple vision, and blurring. It also reduces side vision for seeing vehicles approaching from left or right.

The presumptive level of intoxication in most states, including Illinois, is a blood alcohol content (BAC) of .10 percent.

However, the chance of having a traffic accident increase two times when BAC is .05 percent, seven times when BAC is .10 percent, and 25 times when BAC is .15 percent.

Approximately 50 percent of drivers in fatal crashes are intoxicated, having a BAC level indicating they are incapable of driving safely.

How long does it take to sober up? A person's BAC drops about .015 percent per hour if no more drinks are consumed.

Alcohol's effects wear off at a fairly constant rate.

Contrary to popular belief, drinking beer and having fresh air do not have any effect on the content of alcohol in the blood. The safest remedy is to not drink-and-drive.

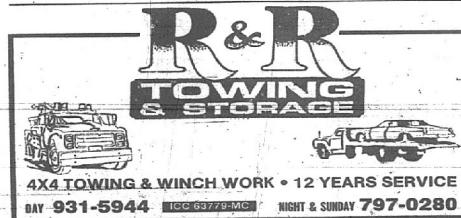

The problems may be with family, employment, school, friends, drunk-driving violations, money or health.

Only rarely can you identify alcoholics by their appearance.

WISHING FOR A SAFE, SWIFT RETURN HOME: The family of Petty Officer 2nd Class David Hale, 26, of the U.S. Navy has tied yellow ribbons around trees, put them on the fence and tied them around anything else they could to show

Insect stings can be deadly

GRANITE CITY — Although you may not think about it until the sting, insects are one of the hazards of warm weather. To most people, insect stings and bites are just a painful annoyance, but to some they can be deadly.

Try Deloney, a registered nurse supervisor in the Emergency Room at St. Elizabeth Medical Center in Granite City, said that if persons exhibit the following symptoms after being stung by one other insect, they need to be taken to a hospital emergency room as soon as possible:

- Flushing.
- Numbness.
- Itching palms or feet.
- Hives.

These symptoms indicate they may be allergic to the sting. Allergic reactions can be fatal in some cases.

How to treat a sting if there is no allergic reaction?

If there are no allergic reactions to the bites, they can be treated effectively in several ways, Deloney said.

To help take the pain out of an insect sting or bite, there are two principal methods you can use:

- Place an ice pack on the area immediately, then wash the stung or bitten area with cold water. Give the person who was stung or bitten an oral antihistamine.

- You can also use meat tenderizer from the grocery store.

Put about a teaspoon of the tenderizer on a wet washcloth and hold it on the sting or bite for about 10 minutes until the swelling goes down. Meat tenderizer has an enzyme that breaks down the protein injected into the body during a sting or bite.

If you can, the best "cure" is to avoid stings.

Avoid areas populated with insects. If you have to be in those areas, be extra cautious. Remember:

- Yellow jackets are attracted to food.

- Wasps build their nests under the eaves of homes.

Wasps usually live around tree trunks.

- Black widow spiders seek out dark places under lumber piles, tree stumps and cracks in baseboards.

- If you receive an insect bite and are unsure about it, the advice currently being offered is to contact your family physician or your local hospital emergency room.

The Emergency Room at St. Elizabeth Medical Center is staffed 24 hours a day and can be reached by calling 798-3066.

If you are experiencing any of the symptoms of an allergic reaction to the sting, go to your local hospital emergency room immediately.

Ramble still lures bikers

By Mike Murphy
Correspondent

The location was different and the number of participants was limited, but the 28th annual Moonlight Ramble bicycle ride on Aug. 12 remained a lot like the other 25 years — a good time will be had.

The ride's organizers made some changes this year, moving the starting line to Forest Park from Memorial Plaza in downtown St. Louis. They estimate the number of participants to 12,000, roughly half last year's number, and offered just one 12-mile route instead of 23-mile and eight-mile routes.

Although many of the riders didn't seem to care for the new restrictions, most seemed willing to give the new format a chance.

The general feeling before the race was one of excitement and anticipation, especially among first-time riders.

"I haven't ridden a bicycle in 20 years or longer," said Mary Ann Ross of south St. Louis. "I really don't like this for exercise, and it's such a beautiful evening. Some friends of mine at work [Lutheran Hospital] were talking about it and I decided to do it."

Ross said she rented a bike for the occasion. She found the $15 rental fee to be reasonable, but said the $250 deposit was a bit steep.

The ride began at the upper Midway Opera parking lot and went to downtown and back. It attracted people from all over the St. Louis metropolitan area and some out-of-town visitors.

"It's been a great night," said Tim Doyle, who was riding with his brother Dennis and family while visiting from New York City.

The Doyle's from DeSoto, made a family affair out of the event, with wife Judy, daughters Jamie and Meghan and 6-year-old son Kit participating. It was the fourth time for Dennis and Judy, and Dennis said he wasn't happy with the new format.

Like the ambience of downtown, Dennis Doyle said, "It's fun going in between the buildings downtown. I like to see places I don't usually see. You can see anything."

Veteran Moonlight Ramble rider Albert H. Feldt of Crestwood was riding with his wife, three sons and two daughters. He said he didn't mind the new setup at all.

"I had done this since the beginning until I stopped about seven years ago," said Feldt, 64. "That's when my new wife was born and now he's riding."

Riders in the ramble came in all shapes and sizes and with all kinds of bicycles, from expensive racing cycles to a man with the large balloon tires.

Ron Brock of Alton had one of the more unusual bikes. He was riding a reproduction of the turn-of-the-century "highwheelers" bicycles with a big 52-inch front wheel and a small 20-inch back wheel.

"I just wanted to be different," Brock said. "I've never ridden in a traffic before, because it has no brakes."

"I have to get off going downhill, and I can't get up much speed going up hill. It's really just for flat areas."

Rich Molano, program director of the Area Council of American Youth Hostels, which sponsored the ride, explained why changes were made to this year's ride.

"We basically wanted to increase our registration," Molano said. "This is our major fund-raiser and getting 20,000 people sounds great. But if you get only one-fourth to register, you have to wonder why we are running the program."

Molano said there had been a lot of problems with people just cutting in once the race had started.

He said that, with the downtown starting gate being wide open, it became difficult to control. He also cited safety factors with so many people involved.

The NRC was immediately notified of the incident.

The company's corrective actions were voluntarily shuttling down the plant for eight days to discuss the event and "lessons learned" with each operating shift and to retrain operators, shift technical advisors and shift supervisors.

The company also conducted meetings between plant management and the individuals involved in the April incident to discuss the experience.

Additionally, IP has assigned an experienced senior-level employee, who reports directly to the vice president responsible for the company's nuclear program, to monitor and assess plant staff operations.

Illinois Power serves large areas of Illinois with electricity and natural gas. The controversial Clinton Power Station utilizes nuclear energy to produce electric power.

For this reason, the nuclear safety regulator's agency received the proposed fine.

On April 11, operators at Clinton moved reactor control rods that dictate the level of power while a series of valves that carry steam past the plant's turbines were open.

By procedure, the valves should be closed. The operating maneuver in question only takes

Shafer delays subdivision plans

By Ellen Drenkhahn
Correspondent

CASEYVILLE — It took Beach neatly six months to get a permit to move soil and construct a private driveway on property he owns in Caseyville.

He finally received the permit Aug. 15.

Shafer, who purchased 23 acres of land off Hollywood Heights Road, originally planned to develop a 59-lot residential subdivision on part of the acreage a part already zoned single-family.

But his plans are on hold for the moment, partly due to the delays he experienced in getting the permits and variances he sought from the village.

The village code states that all new developments must be hooked up to sewers with reasonable access to existing sewer lines.

Shafer said, "I'm about one and one-half miles away from the nearest sewer hook-up, so I planned to put in aeration systems."

"But they (Caseyville village officials) want me to go to the expense of running lines to their sewer."

G.W. Scott, zoning administrator, said Shafer's request was a complicated issue involving the amount of soil he needed to move to construct either roads or his private driveway.

Scott also pointed out that Shafer, on more than one occasion this year, had not met deadlines for submitting required information.

One concern Scott said the village had was a potential erosion problem that could result from the amount of soil Shafer needed to move.

Scott said Shafer's property is located on the top of a hill and soil could wash down onto property below.

Shafer did not attend the Aug. 15 board meeting when his permit was approved.

He then submitted preliminary plans for his subdivision to the Planning Commission on May 5, asking for three variances.

These variances were for the street grade, street surface, and elimination of sidewalks. The commission denied the first two variances and recommended that sidewalks could be eliminated.

The board upheld the commission's recommendations later in May, but stated that Shafer would have to construct the sidewalks according to village code before the plat would be approved.

Shafer revised his request that of constructing a 1,600-foot driveway to property on which he plans to build the subdivision.

Shafer, who owns an excavating business in Pontoon Beach, planned to do much of the excavation work himself.

Shafer, who owns an excavating business in Pontoon Beach, planned to do much of the excavation work himself.

Shafer, who owns an excavating business in Pontoon Beach, planned to do much of the excavation work himself.

Goodrich said Shafer's private driveway was almost in the exact location of what was to have been a road into the subdivision. Goodrich cast the only dissenting vote on Shafer's permit request.

Scott said that any work Shafer did should be closely monitored by himself to make sure it meets village codes.

Scott also said he would prepare a list of specifications concerning the driveway construction, erosion and seeding requirements.

It's official: Square dance our folk dance

SPRINGFIELD — Gov. James R. Thompson on Aug. 7 signed legislation designating the square dance as the official American folk dance of Illinois.

"Music and dance have played an important role in the lives of Illinoisans from the earliest days of our state," Thompson said. "It is fitting that we recognize the significance of our particular regional favorite, the square dance."

"Square dancing is as endemic to life as the prairie plants that border our agriculture landscape," Thompson said.

"Thousands of people enjoy square dancing, many on a regular basis. I am pleased to sign this bill to recognize one of our greatest folk traditions."

The square dance first appeared in America, it is believed, in the mid-17th century, about 350 years ago.

Similar legislation has been passed in 11 other states.

Shoes for students donated

Venture stores want to make sure area children get on the right foot this school year. All 15 local metropolitan area stores are offering a special promotion this week to benefit the Aunts and Uncles, a charity which specializes in giving shoes to needy children.

This Saturday, Venture will collect shoes. Everyone donating a pair of shoes will receive a coupon for 25 percent off a pair of new shoes at Venture.

The donations can be used.

White coupons will be issued for all shoes turned in, spokesman for Venture and the Aunts and Uncles said the shoes have to be in good condition to be redistributed.

We'll pitch shoes that aren't in good shape," said Paul Theiman, director of public relations for Venture.

The Aunts and Uncles said a good alternative would be buying a new pair of shoes and donating those.

Don't put money in the donation box, though," he said.

Rosa Campbell, executive director of the Aunts and Uncles, said the campaign is important.

"We're the only agency in the area that specializes in shoes," she said.

We get referrals from other agencies. We get hundreds and hundreds of requests. The Aunts and Uncles doesn't get permanent funding from any source," she said. "We're not under the United Way and we don't get government money. We rely on private and corporate donations."

Campbell said the agency was founded 24 years ago by her brother, Lawrence Albert Campbell.

Rosa Campbell said her brother thought it was tough on a child to be laughed at because of the poor condition of his shoes. "He said that, if he had anything to do with it, no youngsters would have to go through it," she said.

Rosa Campbell said she took over as director 13 years ago when her brother moved to California because of ill health.

She said most people never realize the importance of shoes.

They're not just good for you physically. They help your self-esteem, and they help you succeed."

She said the agency wants to help its clients' self-esteem.

"We have a motto. 'Wear your shoes well. Hold your head high. You're not bogging, we're giving.'"

Worldwide surgeons here to study latest techniques

Oberto Lay, M.D., attended the 80th annual convention of the American Society of Colon and Rectal Surgeons, held in St. Louis. Dr. Lay is a general surgeon who has been on staff at St. Elizabeth Medical Center in Granite City for more than 30 years.

The convention was designed to provide surgeons with in-depth and up-to-date knowledge on surgery of the colon and rectum, with special emphasis on patient care, teaching and research.

"This was the first time in 89 years that the convention was held in St. Louis," Lay pointed out.

"This area is finally being recognized for the strides we have made in medical treatment," he commented.

The convention featured speakers from Canada, New Zealand, Scotland, Australia, Egypt, Japan, the United States and the United Kingdom.

The United States was represented by specialists from the Mayo Clinic, the Cleveland Clinic and many other institutions.

"The convention offered a good cross-section of physicians from across the country. Dr. Lay said that physicians in other countries do things differently. It is good to see the changes they have made and the new and different techniques they use."

Dr. Lay felt he got the most information from the symposiums on screening for colon cancer, therapy for colorectal cancer, staging in colon cancer, treating trauma to the colon and rectum, colon cancer and the elderly, and new techniques for surgery.

"It was a good review of colon and rectal surgery from all aspects. All of the newest techniques were introduced, including some newer surgical treatments and stapling techniques for surgery," he said. "It is interesting to see the changes that have taken place over the years. We used to see everything we had in hand. Now we use stapling a lot more."

Lay also was reunited with some of the surgeons he accompanied to China on a lecture tour several years ago. He was one of the first group of U.S. colon and rectal surgeons specifically selected to travel throughout China, giving lectures at the major schools.

"Six of the physicians I traveled with are still at the meeting," Lay said.

Dr. J. Byron Gathright Jr. is now the president of the Society. These are all leading professors, very bright men. They are constantly attending and participating in seminars like this one."

Lay feels that because of all the rapid changes and advances in medicine, continuing education is even more important.

"Today's doctors can't just go to the office and treat patients. They have to go to seminars and conventions and learn about new developments and techniques," he said.

I usually go to four to five conventions a year to keep up on the latest techniques. There may be a four-day convention just on hernias or emergency surgery. All these physicians in the field are continually going to special seminars to learn more, so they can continue to provide better patient care."

Dr. Lay also was among the local surgeons this year who participated in special training on advanced techniques in gall bladder surgery.

ans (AAL). He is one of 775 graduating high school seniors to be honored as a recipient of one of these scholarships, which range in amount from $500 to $2,000.

AAL's 1990 scholarship recipients were chosen from more than 5,000 applicants by qualified persons in the field of education. The selections were based on academic records, leadership qualities, extracurricular activities, church and community involvement, and the student's own statements.

Schroeder among conference-goers

Some of the state's outstanding teachers and principals gathered in Springfield Aug. 6-7 at the Ramada Renaissance Hotel for the first annual Educational Leadership Conference. Among them was Coolidge Junior High School teacher Edward M. Schroeder.

The two-day conference included about 40 educators from across the State who have received top honors in the State Board's Those Who Excel/Teacher of the Year and Illinois Distinguished Educational Leader awards. Former Teacher of the Year winners, as far back as 1972, attended the conference.

"These educational leaders represent some of this state's finest minds in education," State Superintendent of Education Leinen said. "State and federal lawmakers can enact school-improvement legislation, but the educators attending this Leadership Conference represent the individuals who are responsible for taking the nuts and bolts of school reform and making sure the process works."

The primary sponsors of the 1990 Educational Leadership Conference were the State Board of Education and the North Central Regional Educational Laboratory at Elmhurst, with assistance from Illinois Bell, the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce, IBM, and Horace Mann Insurance Co.

Gov. and Mrs. James R. Thompson sponsored a dinner at the Executive Mansion for conference participants.

Gabriel heads Granite BPW in coming year

Ruth Ann Gabriel, RN, infection control coordinator at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, is the new president of the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Organization.

Gabriel became involved in the Granite City BPW five years ago and has worked her way up the ranks from vice president to president-elect and now, president.

"My role as president is not to inflict my own beliefs, but to listen to the members and meet their needs," Gabriel said.

The GCBPW's chapter theme this year is "Women Helping Women; Take Charge of Your Health."

Gabriel plans to utilize her knowledge of nursing to educate and help other members of the organization.

She began her career at SEMC as a part-time nurse in November 1976. In 1981, she moved up to full-time nurse and also worked part time in infection control. In 1981, she became full-time infection control coordinator.

Infection control is responsible for the prevention, survey and control of communicable or infectious diseases.

Gabriel provides SEMC employees with information about infection prevention and serves on policy and procedure committees for the medical center.

Gabriel also belongs to the Association of Practitioners in Infection Control.

She is a board member of the American Red Cross and the American Cancer Society and a member of the parish council at Holy Family Church.

GCBPW has been an active force in the community since 1921. Membership is open to all working women and represents a range of occupations, including secretaries, office managers, store owners, insurance agents, teachers, city government workers and those in the medical profession.

Some of the many projects BPW sponsors include:

•Women Helping Women, a support group for education purposes.

•A style show dinner.

•Fund-raisers to generate money for scholarships.

The national theme for BPW is Women in the Workforce 2000.

Steel Women's Association installs

The Granite City Steel Women's Association installed officers for 1990-91 at its June dinner meeting held at Patrick's Restaurant in West Port Plaza, St. Louis, Conn.

Installed were: Celeste Dotson, president; Shirley Strain, vice president; Myra Cook, recording secretary; Chris Schuerbaum, treasurer; and Martha Winchester, corresponding secretary.

Association members meet on the second Tuesday of each month, starting in September and continuing through June.

Activities are planned each month by a different member committee, creating a variety of programs designed to fit a wide range of interests, Dotson said. Active and retired employees are encouraged to join in the fun, she added.

In addition to the regular meetings, Dotson is making plans for two special activities: a trip to Springfield and a Walk-A-Thon to serve as a fund-raising project for the annual Christmas drive, it was announced.

Teen charged in rapes

GRANITE CITY — A 16-year-old boy has been charged in warrants with aggravated criminal sexual abuse for having sex with two boys, ages 8 and 4.

The juvenile, from Kirkpatrick Homes, was incarcerated Monday in the Madison County Juvenile Detention Home in Edwardsville following his arrest. He is being held in lieu of $50,000 bond set by Associate Judge Lawrence Keshner.

The warrants cover at least four incidents that allegedly occurred over a two-week period in July. The victims are residents of Granite City, and the alleged crimes took place in Kirkpatrick Homes.

The juvenile has been automatically certified to stand trial as an adult because he is 15 or older and is accused of a Class X felony, said Assistant State's Attorney Kit Morrissey.

Detective Don Pease of the investigation is continuing and additional charges may be filed against both the accused and another juvenile.

fat and cholesterol, try these tips:

• Fat often can be reduced by one-third. For example, if a recipe calls for 6 tablespoons oil, use 4 tablespoons. This works best in quick breads, puddings and soups.

• Evaporated skim milk or evaporated nonfat dry milk can be substituted for cream in many recipes.

• Instead of butter, use vegetable oil margarine.

• When a recipe calls for dairy sour cream, use drained nonfat yogurt or low-fat cottage cheese instead.

• For a 1-tablespoon square of chocolate in a recipe, substitute 3 tablespoons cocoa mixed with 1 tablespoon oil or margarine.

U.S. paid $12 billion in '89 to Social Security interest

By Bill Hunot
Social Security Administration

Q I keep hearing Social Security trust funds are being borrowed by the government. True?

A Social Security loans money to the government. The money earns interest and will be repaid in the future when it is needed.

This is nothing new. The first Social Security tax, collected in 1935, was borrowed by the government.

The federal government borrows money from investors all over the world to pay its bills.

When the government borrows it takes money out of savings bonds or Treasury notes. United States government notes are considered one of the safest investments in the world because they are backed by the full faith and credit of the United States.

The Social Security trust funds are among the largest investors in government notes. By the end of 1989, Social Security will hold more than $212 billion in government notes.

During 1989, Social Security interest earned about $12 billion in interest.

I was in the military for 20 years including time in the reserves. Was that work covered by Social Security?

A Usually, you will get credit on your Social Security earnings record for any active military service you had since Sept. 16, 1945. That's true even though Social Security taxes were not collected from military pay before 1957.

Some of your reserve duty may count, too. Active duty for training, such as summer camp, has been covered by Social Security since 1988.

And inactive duty for training, such as weekend drills, has been covered since 1988.

Q I am the representative payee for Social Security benefits. True? She has more income than she needs right now. I'm not sure how I should invest the excess. Are there rules on this?

A A representative payee is someone appointed by Social Security to manage benefits for someone that is incapable of handling their own financial affairs.

Payees have to spend benefits on the current needs of the recipient.

Money not needed to meet current needs must be conserved for the recipient's future needs.

Benefits that your aunt doesn't need right now should be in an interest-bearing checking or savings account.

Larger amounts may be invested in U.S. savings bonds or Treasury notes or in federally insured certificates of deposit issued by a bank, savings and loan or credit union.

Bank accounts or other investments conserved funds must clearly designate your aunt as the owner of the funds. Your aunt's Social Security benefits never should be in your bank account.

Send your questions about Social Security to Bill Hunot, St. Louis News Service, 1215 Fernside Parkway, Suite 108, St. Louis, Mo. 63141.

Walker chosen to head group on east side

E.G. "Jerry" Walker was selected president of the East Granite Residential Association during the August meeting held at Holy Family Community Center.

Walker is a 28-year resident of the East Granite area, is employed at the copper mill and looks forward to a revitalization of his neighborhood. He resides with his wife and children in a home he built.

Assuming that he will do his best to help others and improve on things, Walker took over the meeting from LaVerne Red Parker, who has been serving as the group's acting chairman since January.

Other officers elected were:

Don Seitzer, vice-president, and Patty Knobeloch as treasurer. The secretary, Patti McDaniel had been elected in a previous meeting. Each officer has individually lived more than 20 years in the East Granite area.

The members also heard Dave Williams, city neighborhood coordinator, report on results of home inspections and violations. More than half the homes in the project area are in good shape and letters were sent to those homeowners to congratulate them on their work.

Homes that do not meet the city code have been turned over to the inspection department for follow-up; they will be issued either warnings or citations for non-compliance, group members said.

According to Williams, there is only a very small number of homes in the area which have severe violations on the need of condemnation proceedings. Williams concluded by stating that persons in the area in need of financial assistance or having other concerns should contact him at 452-0216.

The group also discussed the new curbside trash pick-up and yard-waste procedures; the need for some type of Safe Street program and future neighborhood meetings. The officers were given the approval to write bylaws for the organization and bring them back to the group for voting.

The meeting, which is the EDNA, will be Sept. 10 at Holy Family Community Center at 7:30 p.m. All residents of the East Granite area are invited to attend.

Families find pleasing mix in Milwaukee

By Randy and Karen Mink
For the Journal

Milwaukee is not only a good place to visit as a family but also an ideal spot to take the family on a summer vacation.

America's 17th largest city is safe, clean and hassle-free. Parents can take heart in the fact the Society, a professional women's magazine, rated Milwaukee the third best place to raise children among large U.S. cities.

You can spend several days sampling Milwaukee's museums, events and German heritage, not to mention its glistening lakefront, restored riverfront and other attractions.

The Milwaukee Public Museum, located downtown, is a treasure house of human and natural history. A dramatic display that impresses both children and adults is the new Rain Forest exhibit, a two-story replica of a Costa Rican jungle, complete with a tropical waterfall and all types of flora and fauna.

The museum, one of the nation's top natural history repositories, also has excellent collections of American Indian, South Pacific and African artifacts.

You can see the city's largest glass sculpture and the largest collection of typewriters. The Wizard Wing has touchable displays and experiments geared to children.

Parents like to walk the lanes of the museum's European Village, where cottages showcase 33 cultures, from Lithuania and Estonia to Portugal and Spain. Visitors also can explore the Streets of Old Milwaukee, exhibit areas with nostalgic storefronts of yesteryear.

A block away, in the Milwaukee Public Library, is Discovery World Museum, where kids learn about electricity, gravity and scientific principles in a hands-on environment. Computer games illuminate economic concepts. The second floor has exhibits and a gift shop.

On the Third Street, another downtown tourist magnet, captures Milwaukee's German flavor with cobblestones, gas lamps and specialty shops restored to early 1900s condition. Drop in the meat store of Usinger's, a sausage factory dating to 1880, to admire the German-captioned murals of sausage-making elves and examine the fresh-smoked sausages, bratwurst and kielbasa. Steps away is Wisconsin Cheese Mart, also brimming with edible souvenirs.

For a look into the life of a beer baron, visit the 1883 Pabst Mansion, the magnificent Flemish-Renaissance residence of Capt. Frederick Pabst.

To best appreciate the city's physical beauty, hop aboard an excursion boat on Lake Michigan and the Milwaukee River. Some vessels offer lunch, brunch and dinner sailings.

The city's glorious lakefront extends 27 miles, much of it available for recreational purposes. McKinley Beach and Bradford Beach are the city's most-frequented swimming holes.

Henry Maier Festival Park, along Milwaukee's downtown lakefront, is the setting for the city's large music and ethnic festivals. West of town is Lake Marshall Fields, the four-block mall encompasses the Plankinton Building's rotunda and arcade, with its spiral staircase and arched skylights.

milkings, demonstrations and exhibits featuring Wisconsin's dairy industry.

A good place to pasture is shopping at the Grand Avenue, a downtown mall. A catalyst for the entire downtown revitalization, it is an enclosed complex of five historic buildings connected by a glass-enclosed bridge. Marshall Fields, the four-block mall encompasses the Plankinton Building's rotunda and arcade, with its spiral staircase and arched skylights.

Late nailbiter finishes Miners

By Dave Whaley
Executive sports editor

VALMEYER — All in all, the Miners' second season was a good one. But the last week left them wondering what if.

The Miners eliminated in the first round of the Mon-Clair League playoffs when Wayne Rohlfing hit a two-run homer in the bottom of the 10th off Darren DePew as Valmyer defeated the Miners 5-3. It was the fifth straight loss for the Miners (31-18), and all five losses were either by one run or came in the opposing team's final at-bat.

DePew relieved Darin Hendrickson, who struck out eight in nine innings, but the Miners lost 2-0 and 4-1 leads before Rohlfing hit the game-winning homer following a one-out walk to Brad Rippelmeyer. DePew had lefties Mark Begando and Vern Lux available, but elected to pitch himself in relief.

"They have mostly right-handed hitters," DePew said. "I decided I would take my chances. I know (Rohlfing) is looking to win it, but I thought they might be trying to steal a base there and I made one too good."

The Miners barely had enough players to start the game, but came out swinging against Laker starter Scott Schaffer. Tim Hogan, Jamie Hogan, Tom Greco and John Mora had singles. Granite City took a 2-0 lead in the first. Chris Landgraf's home run off Hendrickson made it 2-1 in the third, but Greco homered and Rich Takmajian singled in another run off reliever Mike Vojetesak for a 4-1 lead in the fifth.

The Miners outhit Valmyer 15-10 as Greco went 4 for 5 in his last game. He's not planning to play next year. But Vojetesak allowed only three hits over the final five innings.

Hendrickson pitched out of a jam in the seventh when he fanned Rippelmeyer and got Rohlfing on a grounder with runners at second and third. Landgraf almost won the game, but Miners' bats came up short. Reached over the fence in left field to make the catch.

Meanwhile, the Lakers — who lost 6-5 to Waterloo on Sunday — led the game through the bottom of the fifth after Hendrickson had retired the first two. He walked Landgraf with two outs and Tim Degenere doubled to right. Brad Rippelmeyer drove in the two runners and scored on Rohlfing's double down the left-field line.

Moad singled to left to start the 10th, but was thrown out trying to stretch it into a double. He vehemently argued the call, but to no avail.

"It's disappointing that we don't have more guys showing up for the most important games of the season," DePew said. "I'll forgive, but not right now. But we still had a good season, and we have a pretty good nucleus of Granite City players who will play for us next year. We need quality baseball in Granite City and I will continue to fight for it."

NOTES: Waterloo will face Millstadt in the regional final Sunday in Waterloo. Millstadt beat Saugat 8-3 on Saturday, then topped East Alton 12-11 on Sunday. East Alton had upset East St. Louis 7-1 on Saturday. Waterloo beat Edwardsville 12-4 on Saturday. Millstadt also plays in the Metro East Night League championship game Wednesday in Trenton.

Buehrer selected Star of Tomorrow

Doug Buehrer of Granite City has been selected as the Greater St. Louis Boys' Bowling Association's 1990 Star of Tomorrow.

Buehrer, who was a senior at Granite City High School last year, will receive his award on Oct. 13 at Joe Bowler's in Maryland Heights. The ceremony is jointly sponsored by the St. Louis Women's Bowling Association and the Greater St. Louis Boys' Bowling Association. The GSBBA's Star of Tomorrow award for 1989-90 is presented in memory of Charles Briegleb, a former junior coach at Crest Bowl.

In selecting the winner, the association's YABA/Collegiate Committee narrowed the list of nine nominees down to three finalists. In addition to Buehrer, the finalists included John Cozzi of Granite City and Mike and Joe Laisser of Creve Coeur. The other nominees were James Dahn of Ballwin, Greg Meyer of Florissant, Steven Schutz of St. Ann, Aaron Weishaar of St. Charles, Joseph Wakurka of south St. Louis and Jeff Bodmer.

Buehrer carried a .227 average in the Mid-American high school traveling league, a 200 in the Granite City Memorial traveling league and a composite 221 average for leagues at Bowland Lanes in Granite City. His 227 in the Mid-American league was a new personal high, as was the 200 series he bowled this season. His previous best series was an .802 bowled in the 1987-88 season. In addition to those two 200 series, he also had two sanctioned 300 games in the 1988-89 season.

Buehrer also made 1989 Greater St. Louis High School All-American Classic and was a school all-star champion in 1989. Southwest Regional team champion, 1988-89 Greater St. Louis Junior Bowling Association Championships singles and all-events champion, and 1988 Tammy Koehler/Buzzy

Troops under new commander

The U.S. Army Troop Support Command (TROSCOM) is under new leadership following a change of command ceremony in St. Louis Aug. 24.

Gen. Thomas L. Prather Jr. became the sixth commander of TROSCOM, a command that is responsible for developing and maintaining the field equipment that meets the needs of soldiers. Col. John J. Sosnowski officially relinquished his command to Prather in a formal ceremony at the Federal Center.

Prather comes to TROSCOM with a wide variety of command experience which culminated in his latest assignment as the Deputy Commanding General for Procurement and Readiness at the U.S. Army Armor and Mechanized Chemical Command, Rock Island.

Gen. William G.T. Tuttle Jr., commander of the U.S. Army Material Command, performed the traditional transfer of colors at the change of command ceremony.

Prather has held a number of key assignments recently, including Deputy Commander, 2d Corps Support Command, VII Corps, U.S. Army Europe.

He holds a master of science degree in contracting and procurement from the Florida Institute of Technology and has held a variety of important command and staff positions, including a tour of duty in Vietnam.

Return to Korea
Set for September

Veterans of battlegrounds from Korea to the Yalu plan to return to Korea Sept. 8-Oct. 8 to mark the 40th anniversary of that three-year conflict.

Returning veterans will be accompanied by Gen. Raymond G. Davis, USMC (Ret.) and Mrs. Davis, now of Stockbridge, Ga., recipient of the Purple Heart for his role in leading elements of the 7th Marines of the 1st Marine Division out of the Chinese encirclement at Chosin. Veterans will visit the historic DMZ, the Korean War Museum, will be guided into the tunnel labyrinths dug into the South by North Koreans since the 1950-53 war.

Plans are set for a reunion with U.S. and ROK (Republic of Korea) veterans at the war memorial at Inchon. Two days of rest and recreation are slated for Hawaii on the way home.

Tour members can extend their trip to Australia, Japan, Hong Kong and points in the Orient to thank the veterans and families of all services, their friends and families. For information, contact Col. Wiedahn at 1-800-222-8685 or 144 Maple Avenue East, Vienna, Va. 22180, Ideal Travel, which is handling details and arrangements.

Infantry division
plans 41st reunion

From Sept. 12-16, the 87th (Golden Acorn) Infantry Division will hold its 41st annual reunion in Charleston, W. Va., at the Charleston Marriott Town Center.

The 87th Infantry Division was activated and trained as a combat Infantry Division in both World Wars.

For additional information on 87th reunion, contact Gladwin Paszczko, 2374 N. Dundee Rd., Highland, Mich., 48031. Telephone: (313) 997-9005.

Early promotion for
Eagle/Gold Scouts

The Army will now promote to private first class those enlisted in Regular Army and Army Reserves who earned the Boy Scout's Eagle Scout Certificate or the Girl Scout Gold Award, and who otherwise qualifies for promotion.

This accelerated promotion to private 2 recognizes the qualities of leadership, self-confidence, courage, teamwork and self-discipline attributed to Eagle and Girl Scout Gold Award recipients.

According to Lt. Col. Claude Bailey Jr., Commander of the Army's recruiting battalion, Sgt. 1st Class, Eagle Scouts and Girl Scout Gold Award recipients who enlist in the Army can receive an immediate promotion to private 2 by showing their Eagle Scout or Gold Award certificate to their recruiter and by otherwise qualifying for enlistment.

A private 2 receives $142 more each month than a private 1, and [he] begins accumulating time for grade next time toward his or her next promotion," the colonel said.

Recent surveys of the four U.S. military academies show that six to nine percent of cadets are Eagle Scouts, and another 18 to 30 percent of cadets have been in scouting.

The National Eagle Scout Association study also shows that about 10 percent of its members are currently in military or government service.

Enlisting in the Army, for those who qualify, can produce up to $25,200 for college with the Montgomery GI Bill and the Army College Fund. Former scouts can serve their country, receiving training, continue to develop leadership skills with fellow scouts who have enlisted and then attend college aided by the Army College Fund and the Montgomery GI Bill.

D-Day memorabilia sought by center

Stephen E. Ambrose, director of The Eisenhower Center, University of New Orleans, is calling on all veterans of the Normandy invasion to contribute their own taped oral history to the D-Day collection to the Eisenhower Center.

An appeal is being made to preserve the record of the common soldier, sailor or airman. For the 50th anniversary, a published book is being planned titled, "Voices of D-Day," based on the oral histories.

For more details, write Stephen E. Ambrose, director, The Eisenhower Center, University of New Orleans, New Orleans, La. 70148.

West Point grad completes program

John Shimkus

Capt. John Shimkus of Collinsville has completed the Army Reserve component of the Combined Arms and Services Staff School at West Point.

CAS-2 is a rigorous instructional program which prepares officers to function as members of a coordinating staff in battalions, brigade and division level organizations.

Course goals are to improve each officer's ability to analyze and solve military problems; ability to interact and coordinate as a member of a staff; ability to communicate; and understanding of army organization, operations and procedures. The passing of the Army Physical Fitness Test is part of the successful completion of this course.

Shimkus graduated from West Point in 1980 and served 5½ years in the United States Army, both abroad and in the U.S. He is currently serving in the Army Reserves as commander of the 100th Field Service Company based in St. Louis.

Eric Richardson

Navy Midshipman Eric L. Richardson, son of Ardies S. Richardson of Venice, was one of many U.S. Navy midshipmen who recently participated in a summer training cruise aboard the battleship USS Missouri, homeported in Long Beach, Calif.

The annual cruise augments classroom studies and gives prospective naval officers a preview of their futures.

During Richardson's training cruise, he worked in a number of shipboard jobs.

He is a 1989 graduate of Madison

Senior High School.

Kenneth Stovall

Navy Petty Officer 2nd Class Kenneth K. Stovall, son of Freda L. Burton of Pontoon Beach, was recently awarded the Good Conduct Medal.

The medal signifies honest and faithful service during a four year period. To earn it, Stovall achieved and maintained a satisfactory level of performance and an unblemished conduct record for the entire period.

He is currently serving aboard the fleet ballistic missile submarine USS Henry L. Stimson, homeported in Charleston, S.C.

A 1974 graduate of Theodore Roosevelt High School, St. Louis, and a 1986 graduate of Ottawa University, Ottawa, Kan., with a bachelor of arts degree, he joined the Navy in July 1986.

Peachy Keen

Fruit Can Help Sweeten Your Summertime Meals

By Janice Denham
Journal Food Editor

Roll out those lazy, hazy, crazy days of summer—those days of peaches and nectarines and pears. Summer just wouldn't be summer without them.

Ice cream topped with fresh peaches, shortcake studded with pears, nectarines topped with clumps of vanilla cream, and pears baked, cooked with lemon and ginger enhancing their sugary syrup add up to new and old flavors as summery as the sound of crickets at dusk.

Almond, lemon and cinnamon are traditional flavors that can be switched to bring out nuances of sweet fruit flavor any day of the week. To peel the fruit, place in simmering water 30 to 60 seconds. Remove with a slotted spoon and immediately dip in cold water. Peel easily with the tip of a knife. Preserve the color of cut peaches, nectarines, apples, pears and other fruits that brown from exposure to air by sprinkling with lemon juice.

Poached Pears And Honey Yogurt

6 fresh pears
3 tbsp. fresh orange juice
½ cup water
½ cup orange peel strips
12 cinnamon sticks, each 3 inches long
½ cup vanilla low-fat yogurt
3 tbsp. honey
1 tbsp. grated orange peel

Peel pears, leaving stems intact. Cut thin slice from bottom of each pear so it stands upright. Rub with 1 tablespoon orange juice. Arrange in deep casserole. Combine remaining juice, sugar, water, orange peel strips and cinnamon sticks. Bring to boil, stirring frequently. Boil 3 minutes. Pour over pears. Bake, covered, at 350° for 25 to 30 minutes until tender when pierced with fork. Cool pears in liquid at least 1 hour.

For sauce, combine yogurt, honey and grated orange peel. Cover. Refrigerate. To serve, spoon sauce over pears.

Micro波 directions: Prepare pears as directed in conventional cooking directions. Combine 2 tablespoons orange juice and the sugar, water, orange peel strips and cinnamon in 1½-quart glass baking dish. Microwave on high 3 minutes. Stir. Microwave 2 minutes longer or until boiling. Add yogurt. Cover with vented plastic wrap. Microwave on high 1 minute, stirring frequently, until pears are tender when pierced with fork. Cool pears in liquid at least 1 hour.

For sauce, combine yogurt, honey and grated orange peel. Cover. Refrigerate. To serve, spoon sauce over pears.

Summer brunch perfer for sunny friendship

PICK A FRUIT ripe and ready for a brunch dish that can be memorable and also made ahead.

MONEY SAVING COUPONS the Sunflower Group

To celebrate a special friendship, yet simplifies preparations for having company, invite a friend over on a warm, sunny morning. Decorate a table indoors or outside with fresh flowers. Serve an easy, made-ahead, memorable brunch.

The secret of preparing brunch is to use fresh summer ingredients for color and flavor. Start with Tropical Waffles. The batter can be made the night before. Even easier, make the waffles several days ahead and pop them in the freezer for reheating. For the easiest way to buy frozen waffles for crisping in a toaster right at the table.

The sauce, too, can be made in a matter of minutes, either the same morning or on days in advance. It uses kiwi-fruit, which may not come from the backyard, but is equally as ripe and delicious as a fresh fruit during the good of summer. It's a great way to use when it yields to light pressure.

After brunch, save any extra sauce. It can be stored, well covered, in a refrigerator several weeks. Instead of serving it the next time over waffles, try it as a topping for pound cake, ice cream, pudding or frozen yogurt.

Husband's support helps woman in her pregnancy

The following is written by Dr. George D. Malkasian, president of the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists.

At one time, most men felt that once their wives became pregnant, they could do little until it was time to bring her and the baby home from the hospital.

Today, nothing could be more false. Modern fathers are more likely to be involved and concerned about pregnancy, be supportive and caring, and take an active role in the labor and delivery process.

Expectant fathers today often attend childbirth classes, which explain pregnancy and birth, teach the woman exercises and breathing techniques to use during labor, and tell the father how he can help. It is common for the father to be present in the delivery room when the mother gives birth.

Here is some information to share with your partner to help him understand your pregnancy and how he can play an active role.

From the moment the expectant father first learns that his partner is pregnant, he becomes an important part of the expecting team. There are many ways that he can become involved in the pregnancy and provide support for the mother over the next nine months.

During the first three months, he can help the new mother-to-be adjust to the changes in her physical condition and lifestyle. She may feel fatigued, having mood swings, need more rest and have mood swings. He can help her by being sympathetic and patient. This is a good time also to get to know the obstetrician and learn about the pregnancy process.

When a woman's figure starts to change, she may need reassurance that she is still attractive and desirable. This is also important. Many men wrongly assume that their partner will not be interested in sex or that it is not safe to have it. Unless the doctor advises limiting or avoiding sex, expecting couples can continue to have sex until close to birth.

As the delivery date nears, the expectant mother's apprehension may increase, and she may become impatient with the pregnancy and with her awkwardness and size. The partner can support her at this time by being understanding and helping her get through these tough weeks.

Some men, for whatever reason, are uncomfortable being present in the labor and delivery rooms. If that is the case, the partner can show his support and concern in other ways.

For a free copy of "Especially for Fathers" (APO32), send a stamped, self-addressed business envelope to: The American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists, Resource Center, 409 12th St., S.W., Washington, D.C. 20024.

Nicholson hollywood's best

By Mason Wiley

Only Jack Nicholson would have the nerve to try make a sequel to Roman Polanski's "Chinatown" (1974, Paramount Home Video, $19.95).

The recently released "The Two Jakes" proves Nicholson the director is no Polanski, but Nicholson the actor still is the most unpredictable and adventurous in American films.

For director Hector Babenco ("Kiss of the Spider Woman"), the actor gave a low-key but powerful performance as a gullible, drunken, wandering on the streets of Depression-era Albany, N.Y. in "Ironweed" (1987, Vestron Video, $89.98).

For Michelangelo Antonioni, Nicholson was the soul of intellectual eminence in "The Conformist" (Warner Home Video, $59.95); about a television reporter who switches identities with an acquaintance he finds dead in a hotel room.

"THE SHINING" is available on video.

The choice of slice of the star's early work in B-movies is Roger Corman's original "Little Shop of Horrors" (1960, Vestron, $19.88), in which Nicholson plays, a masochist who loves painful trips to the dentist.

Nicholson's star-making role was the sotted attorney who used a football helmet as a mace to defeat the man-mercurial hit "Easy Rider" (1969, RCA/Columbia, $19.95).

Nicholson similarly was alienated the next year in "Five Easy Pieces" (1970, RCA/Columbia, $19.95) as the fleeing musician who never can find a place to settle down.

Nicholson's Oscar victories were for "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest" (1975, MGM/EMI, $19.95), in which he plays a troublemaker in an insane asylum, and "Terms of Endearment" (1983, Paramount, $24.95), in which he plays an aerospace astronaut in suspense. His sixth nomination, in between his Oscar-winning films, was for playing Eugene O'Neill in "Death of a Salesman" (1981, Paramount, $29.95).

Kickers look to dominate '90s as well

By Dave Whaley
Executive sports editor

GRANITE CITY — High school soccer in Illinois was dominated by Granite City in each of the past two decades. As the '90s begin, there seems little reason to forecast a change in the near future.

The 1990 Warriors opened the season Tuesday against Civic Memorial of Bethalto with an experienced team intent on successfully defending its 1989 state championship, when it finished 24-5-2. There are nine seniors returning from last year's state tournament roster, so the Warriors would once again have to be the favorites for a trip to St. Charles the first weekend of November.

"We've worked hard and the conditioning has been pretty good," said Warrior coach Gene Baker, who began his 18th season with a 405-85-33 record (341-65-33 at Granite City). "What concerns me right now is all the injuries."

At one time or another in the pre-season the Warriors were without Pat Rich, Brian Buske, Jason Mathenia, Larry Wright, Brent Dippel and Jason Nemeth. Nemeth's knee appeared to be the most serious, as he was scheduled to be out through the first week of the season.

But the cupboard is hardly bare. Rich and fellow seniors

Skip Birdsong and Dan Terrell are two-time letterwinners and will be seeking their third straight trip to state. Those three and others will fill the leadership roles left by a 1989 senior group led by All-American John Van Buskirk and fellow tri-captains Matt Cook and Jerry Richardson.

"These players had a high regard for John, and deservedly so," said Baker. "Matt and Jerry were great leaders, and others like Sean Bain and Brent Broshaw were important parts of the team."

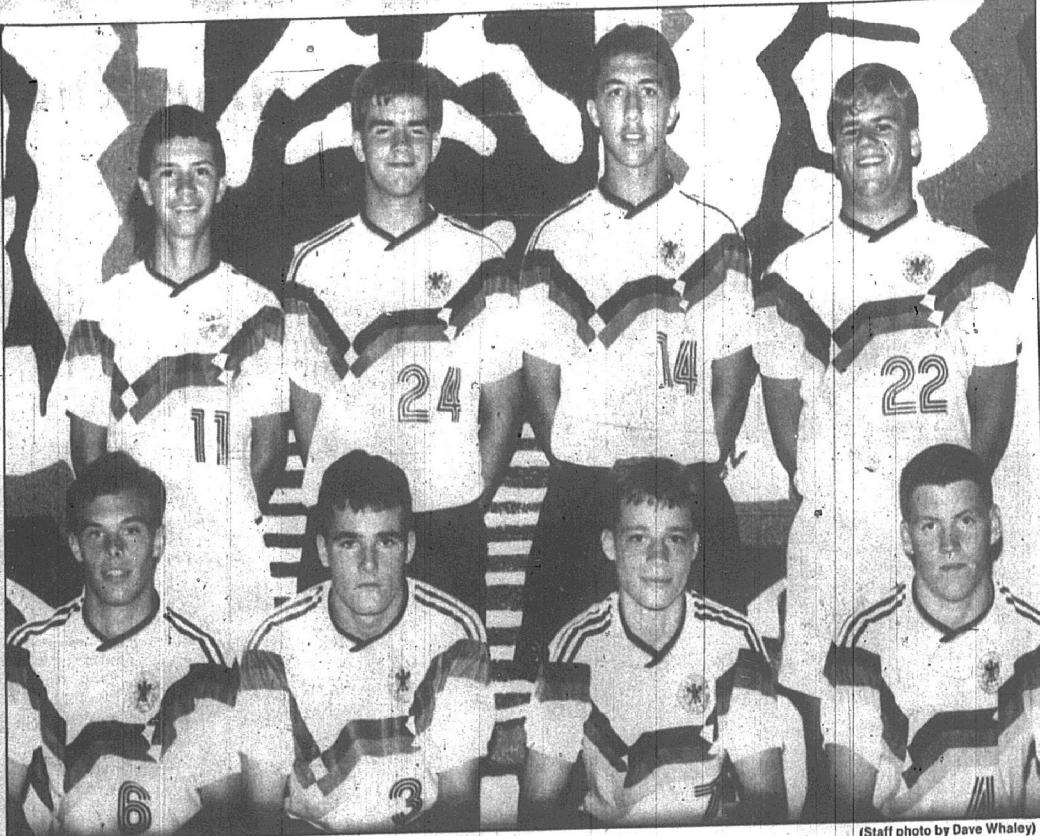

"We need to be at full strength to kick it into gear right away. We had a number of players who came on strong at the end of last season and should be major contributors this year."

Listed among that group are seniors Jeff Stephens, Ryan Reeves, Jason Scrum, Buske and Jason Mathenia. And with senior Jay Robertson up front, the Warriors will be a threat to score at any time.

"Jay is a finisher," said Baker. "He has a nose for the goal and he's a tremendous athlete. It's hard to say how fast he is, but he's faster than just about anyone he's come up against."

Robertson scored 10 goals as a junior, but was academically ineligible for the last three weeks of the season up until the state finals, where he scored the winning goal in two of the three games.

His speed brings to mind Scott Stone, who scored 15 goals in the strike-shortened 1988 season, but Robertson is bigger and stronger.

"I really think Jay could score 30 goals this year," said Birdsong.

Junior Tim Henson is the No.

1 goalie as the season starts, with seniors Brad O'Neill and Brian Cholevik right behind.

"It looks right now that Timmy will start in the big games," said Baker. "He's got good technique and size, but the other two are technically sound. (Juniors) Chad Toeniskoetter and Russ Buchek are pushing also."

Rich, McKeegan and possibly Birdsong will anchor the defense along with senior Larry Strader.

"If Skip can fill the bill on the backline it will give us more versatility," said Baker. "McKeegan and Rich are our anchors."

Stephens, who had a tremendous state tournament, is at the top of the depth chart at midfield along with Terrell and Birdsong, with seniors Ryan Reeves and Scrum close behind. Sophomore Jason Maxfield, who got some varsity time last year, is also there with senior Matt Loftus and Mathenia.

Up front with Robertson, sophomore Brent Dippel could provide some scoring along with Reeves, Birdsong, Maxfield and Buske.

"If Brent hustles away from the ball he can really be a factor," said Baker. "He's big and strong (6-1, 196) and can just kill the ball. And Buske will score if he's healthy."

One freshman, Jamie Bridges, will likely make the varsity along with sophomores Maxfield and Dippel.

"If we get the leadership we'll be in fine shape," Baker said.

"The state title is ours until someone takes it away. But at the same time we have to prove ourselves all over again. We have to be hungry yet humble."

The schedule is top-notch again, featuring most of the major St. Louis powers. Vianney (Saturday), McCluer North and SLUH will all visit the Gauntlet, while the Warriors travel to CIBC.

"The schedule will have to help us, and the Tournament of Champions just gets better every year," Baker said. "The attitude is good for us (Baker and assistants Mel Bunting and Dave Ames) to mold into a cohesive unit."

Wyrosteck leading gridders into new era

By Dave Whaley
Executive sports editor

GRANITE CITY — Outsiders aren't sure what to think of the Warrior football team this year. And Tom Wyrosteck likes that just fine.

What Granite City's opponents know is that the program is under new leadership. Just what Wyrosteck — a successful coach for 10 years at Granite City North — has in store for those opponents, only he knows. And even he isn't that sure.

"We've looked good so far, but we've only been going against ourselves in practice," said Wyrosteck, who will restart his coaching career when the Warriors open at home Friday against Cahokia. "The practices have been good, but we're waiting to see what we have in the games."

There isn't much for opponents to see from last year's game films. The Warriors (3-6 in Ron Yates' last season a year ago) return only five senior lettermen — quarterback Bob Thomas, tight end Erik Lewis, tackle Mark Cotter, tackle Gary Tipton and safety Todd Pryor.

Other than that, it's mostly a new beginning for the varsity, although there will be some talent to build on from sophomore and freshman teams which enjoyed successful 1989 seasons.

Thomas, the starting quarterback since his sophomore season, has the inside track on the job again, although juniors Billy Van Buskirk and Mike Mowell will be pushing from behind.

"We put out a depth chart every Tuesday and Bobby is on top this week," said Wyrosteck. "We're throwing a lot of new things at him this year, but he has handled things pretty well in practice. Again, we'll see how he does in the games."

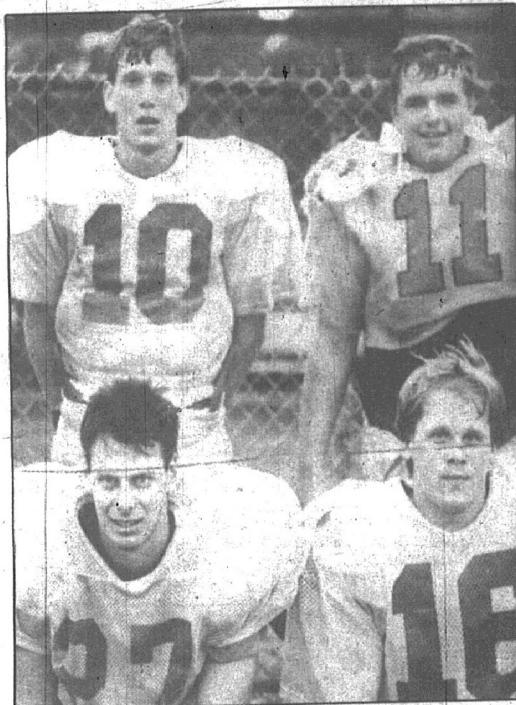

Thomas completed 40 of 101 passes last year for 400 yards, four touchdowns and 16 interceptions. Three times he came through with clutch fourth-quarter performances as the Warriors came from behind late in all of their wins. Mowell was 0 for 4 passing in the season finale and ran the ball five times for 17 yards. Van Buskirk saw some varsity time as a running back/linebacker at the end of the year after quarterbacking the sophomore squad.

"Billy is throwing the ball well and Mike has shown he can be a decent runner for us," said Wyrosteck.

The Warriors have a tank in the backfield in junior Larry Curry, possibly the biggest player on the team. He and junior David Naeve are competing for the fullback position. Junior Mike Vaughn, senior Mike Bonvicino and junior Chris Peeler are competing for spots at half-back.

The backs aren't as quick as we would like, but you won't find too many bigger or stronger than Curry," said Wyrosteck. "He just needs to keep moving straight ahead and he can get some yards."

Flanker backs will be junior Damon Yates, Mowell and senior Mike Montgomery. Along the line, Wyrosteck has Tipton and junior Larry Earney at the top of the list among tackles, followed by junior Bryan Kromray, seniors Chris Kraus, Rob Jaycox and Cotter. Juniors Chris Hoffstot and Eric Mendenhall are the guards, followed by seniors Andy Simpson and Brad Nelson, and juniors Richard Meyer, Mike Weinkein and John Rickert. Junior Jeff Heubschman tops the chart at center, followed by seniors Dan Partney and Scott Wolfe.

Lewis and fellow senior Mike Nordstrom are sharing time at tight end along with junior Jason Ellis, who should be a big target at 6-5.

Hoffstot and Mendenhall will be joined at defensive tackle by senior John Billick and juniors Don Lowe and David Cotter. Guards, Barry Sykes and Kevin Sitton, and senior Mike Dickerson are being looked at at defensive end. Vaughn, Van Buskirk, Wolfe, Partney, Nelson and junior Shawn Gooch are the linebackers.

Pryor, who had a couple of interceptions last year, will lead the secondary along with Thomas, Peeler, Montgomery, Yates, Mowell and junior Larry White.

"(Junior) Doug Norton is really starting to hit, too," said Wyrosteck. "We'll have to find a position for him."

Wyrosteck said Nordstrom might handle most of the kicking game, although Thomas and Van Buskirk could help there as well.

As for the season, Wyrosteck won't make any guesses.

"People always want me to predict how many games we'll win, but I never do that," he said.

Wyrosteck promises an attacking philosophy on both offense and defense.

"We'll throw the ball out of our own end zone once in a while," he said. "And we'll attack on defense. We have the hitters, but we still need quickness. There won't be a lot of wild stunting going on."

Wyrosteck might have some surprises in store for his opponents, and he likes the attitude of his players.

"It's hard to stay up with all the two-a-days we've had," he said. "Football isn't that much fun this time of year. They want to play a game. But they couldn't go any harder than they've been working. The weather has been funny this year, but our guys have stuck with it."

Spikers hope attitude translates into wins

By Brian Henry
Correspondent

GRANITE CITY — The buzzword for this year's Warrior volleyball team is "attitude."

An infusion of a more positive and aggressive attitude — and an improved work ethic — has been brought about by the work of second-year coach Natalie Buster.

"I know we'll do much better this season," said Buster, who was 2-18 in her first season. "Last year we had a lack of confidence which hurt the team as a whole. This year I have been more of a motivator, so things will change."

Improving upon last year's record will not be too difficult, but restoring credibility to the program might be a greater goal. The Warriors lose only one senior, Carrie Bohnenstiehl, and return a solid nucleus to build around. The increase in participation has also led to more competition for starting roles.

"Some of our younger kids are giving the seniors a run for their money," said Buster. "I don't have a set varsity lineup, because practically all of the spots are up for grabs."

Buster does have some idea of the lineup she will put on the floor when the Lady Warriors open the season at home Sept. 5 against Edwardsville. That lineup will likely go through numerous alterations as the season progresses.

Senior Amey Bohnenstiehl and sophomore Stephanie Kult will be the primary setters. Senior Melissa Tapp and junior Jennifer Wortham will anchor the team defensively. A trio of servers — junior Terri Buster and sophomores Staci Johnson and Amy Krakowiecki — will play important roles. Also expected to see a great deal of varsity action are senior Jennifer Harris, junior Carrie Brown and sophomore Beth Rapoff.

Senior Dianna Brandt has a bad knee, but Buster hopes she can see some playing time.

"She worked harder than anyone on the team and was one of my better athletes," said Buster. "It's just an unfortunate thing with her knee."

Natalie Buster
new attitude

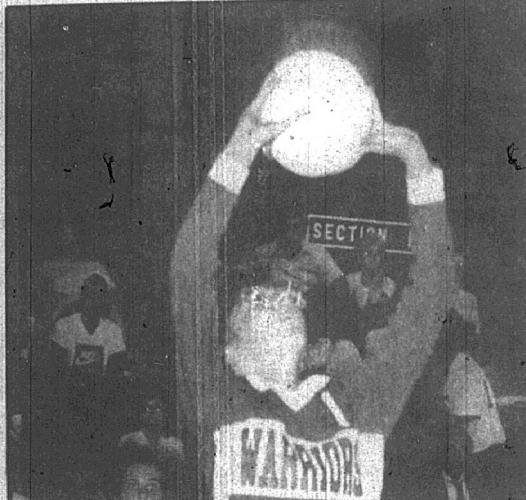

"Melissa and Jennifer (Wortham) are able to move wherever I want them. Terri, Staci and Amey have worked on their mechanics and have made themselves into good servers. This team is great to work with because they do whatever is asked of them."

Many of the players will benefit from league play in Belleville over the summer. Also, many of them received some pointers from a U.S. Olympic training consultant in July at a clinic at Grigsby Junior High School.

"Our entry in the Belleville league was coached by Ned Tapp, Elmer Wortham and Lisa Kult," said Buster. "I believe the experience will give the girls a better feel for the game coming into the season."

The two Belleville schools should continue to dominate the Southwestern Conference. But the Warriors might have the inside track on third place.

"We should be able to hold our own in the conference," Buster said.

Trojan gridders getting serious again

By Mike Kelly
Staff writer

MADISON — The Trojans are taking a serious approach towards the upcoming football season.

Following back-to-back 2-7 seasons, head coach Don Smith — entering his eighth season with a 33-37 record — is very optimistic.

"We've got a good group of freshmen out for the team and our numbers (30 players) are up tremendously," said Smith. "It definitely won't be like last year. We're playing a six-game fresh/soph schedule, which will give our 15 freshmen considerable playing time and the returning veterans seem to have straightened out their attitudes. All of that could add up to a .500 season."

A big reason for Smith's optimism is the creation of the Madison High School Booster Club. The organization has put a great deal of time and money into the athletic program, while trying to upgrade the fortunes of a struggling football program.

"It's terrific," said Smith. "We, including the rest of the athletic department, have finally found a source of support. Now we can just concentrate on developing our kids because the financial aspects of our program are being taken care of."

"People like (school board president) John Hamm, (superintendent) Dan Kostencki, (high school principal) Robert Mehelic, Mike Vrabc, Patricia Jones and (booster club vice president) Donald Turner have given their time and energy to help our kids. These people are involved in the community on a regular basis. They even bought us new road uniforms for this year. It's nice to know there's support waiting in the wings."

Now the Trojans must prove their worth on the field. After making the state playoffs in 1987, the last two years have been plagued by defections, discipline problems and injuries. It's created a dark cloud Smith and his coaching staff are not accustomed to.

"It's hard to believe we made the playoffs three years ago, but we got there," said Smith. "I guess it was just that those kids had a little more about their chance. But I feel very confident about this group. Everyone has shown up to practice so far, and their work habits are very good.

"It's a pride thing. We've got some kids who went through the frustration of a long and losing season last year. They're determined to turn things around."

Don Smith
... looking to rebound

Madison returns an experienced fullback led by Tony Treadway, who led the team in rushing with nearly 600 yards in 1989. And he missed three games due to grade problems. The senior will be accompanied by sophomore James Wellmaker, who started the year at linebacker and gained 117 yards in the final game of the season at fullback.

"James is definitely our starting fullback going into the season opener (against Waterloo on Aug. 31)," said Smith. "I'm sorry I didn't give James more of an opportunity to run with the football last year. He's a heady player who took his lumps on the varsity level. But he's learned from those mistakes and he should put together a successful season for us."

"James is just one example of the determination we have among our young players. Tony is another story. He's got the abilities to play the game, but his attitude has to be better. Hopefully, he grew up a little during the off-season."

Senior Federico Walker will man the quarterback position after the transfer of Cernyn Thomas to East St. Louis Lincoln. Juniors Warren Kostencki, Derrick Hall and senior Greg Voloski will anchor the offensive line.

"Losing Cernyn will hurt us down the road," said Smith. "He was only going to be a junior and having an underclassman at quarterback would have given us the luxury of using him for a couple of years. But Federico is handling the position well and we'll try to find an underclassman to be his backup."

An off-season weight program also helped Smith build depth. Senior Arthur Wiggins, who didn't come out for the team last season, got interested in football while lifting weights during the winter and could be an asset on the defensive line.

"People like Arthur will give our front line people a breather during the course of a game," said Smith. "We're a small school (280 students), so depth is always a concern. It'll definitely be a different twist from last season. Heck, everytime I turned around last year we were using a different lineup. But so far it looks like things will be a little different this year."

Madison will only play eight games this season, but an open date on the third week of the season might be filled with a game at Johnson City, which is located near West Frankfort.

"Being an independent, we really need nine games on the schedule," said Smith. "That way we could lose three games and still keep our playoff hopes alive. But making the playoffs will be a bonus this season. We're just interested in finishing with a .500 record and turning things around in the program."

Chappell hoping team effort enough

By Dave Whaley
Executive sports editor

GRANITE CITY — The Warrior golf team probably won't be operating on the star system this year, but a team effort might be enough.

"Individually, I don't think we have anyone who can compare with Chad Lane, Mike Wilkinson or Derek Trtanj," said veteran coach Russ Chappell, naming some outstanding Warrior golfers of recent years. "But team-wise I think we have people who will give us a good score in most matches."

Last year's team began with virtually no varsity experience due to the 1988 teachers strike which wiped out almost the whole season. But the Warriors are a little better off this year with four returning senior lettermen — Dean Sheikh, Chris Sturdivant, Allen Ledbetter and Bill McCormick. Sheikh and McCormick have two letters each. Other seniors on the roster are Ryan Mueller and Joel Roderick.

The junior class includes Joe Brewer, Bart Also, Jason Cass, Tom Hoskins and Ed MacKay. Sophomores are Gabe Mitchell, Steve Rains, B.J. Hamilton, Mike Pritchard, Shane McCallister, Paul Roan and Paul Austin. The freshmen are Josh McClelland, Matt Blankenship, Matt Bolandis, Matt Ruder and Scott Schaus.

"The freshmen are better prepared as a group than any group of freshmen we've had here in quite a while," said Chappell. "I'm really pleased with the progress the younger ones have made over the summer."

Chappell said he has eight golfers with a legitimate shot at being in the Warriors' top group. That would include the senior lettermen plus Mueller, juniors Brewer and Also, and sophomores Mitchell and Rains.

"It's the first year out for Brewer and Also, and Mitchell and Rains are showing some real potential," Chappell said.

"We didn't play that well under pressure last year, so that's one thing we need to improve on. I don't see us having medalists at a lot of meets, but I'm sure we can be .500 or better for 16 matches. We look like we're going to be all right at this course (Arlington), but the test will come at some of the other courses."

Chappell said he believes Arlington will be the site of the regional, which should help.

"Belleville West and Edwardsville will be the best in the area," said Chappell. "They're traditional powers. Collinsville has been strong the last couple of years, but they might be down a little, although they have a couple of good ones coming back. And Belleville East could be a sleeper."

Harriers hope to build on successful '89

By Brian Henry
Correspondent

GRANITE CITY — The Warrior cross country team returns all of its top runners from a promising 1989 season, and coach Dave McClain hopes the unity pays off.

"Not losing any of our top runners helps us to be stronger as a team," said McClain. "Running in a pack is important in helping set the pace and possibly winning the meet."

The harriers enter the season — which begins Saturday with the Granite City Invitational — with a strong core of runners. Leading the way will be junior Lance Reynolds, who had an impressive sophomore year. He placed ninth at the regional as the Warriors finished second as a team to advance to sectional competition for the first time in school history.

"This is a pivotal year for Lance," said McClain. "We are going to need him at his best good shape," McClain said. "There could be some changes depending on how we perform."

McClain will get a good indication of how his team stands on Saturday, when 22 other teams come to town.

"All of the top teams from the area will be here," he said. "Lincoln, Mt. Vernon, Springfield Lanphier, Hazelwood East and Central, and McCluer North are coming in. We'll find out how good we are right from the first meet."

The prospects of again advancing to the sectional — and possibly to state for at least a couple individuals — are brighter with the continuity from last fall.

"I'm looking forward to this season," said McClain. "Sectionals are going to be tough, but I think the boys will want to redeem themselves after not performing well there last year."

It's highly unlikely Granite City will field a girls team this year. Only senior Jennifer Winfield expressed an interest to

If Reynolds falters, senior Justin Stallings will pick up the slack. Joining Reynolds and Stallings in the top five positions will be senior Mark Chapman, junior Brian Seiz and sophomore Bryan Reed. Jockeying for the final two positions are seniors Jeff Seiz, Justin Rayl and Chris Garriott along with junior Kelly Miller. Aside from Reynolds and Stallings, however, none of the other positions has been finalized.

Loss of key players hurts Warrior netters

By Brian Henry
Correspondent

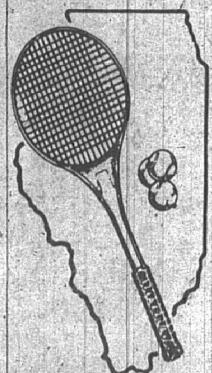

GRANITE CITY — For the first time in four years, Warrior tennis coach Allen Lobdell will enter a fall campaign without perhaps the finest girls tennis player the high school has ever seen.

The departure of Keri Weckman, the No. 1 singles player since 1986, and a lack of numbers in the program has presented Lobdell with an intriguing dilemma.

"Only having nine girls out right now does not make for a good outlook for Granite City tennis," said Lobdell. "I lost five seniors, and this year I'll lose my No. 1 singles player and my No. 1 doubles team."

Senior Kristi Holsinger is the heir apparent to Weckman in the No. 1 singles position, while fellow seniors Addie Lenzi and Hollie Taylor return as the Warriors' top doubles tandem.

"Kristi is a tough player and she will be a solid No. 1 for us," said Lobdell. "I feel that she can handle the pressure of being No. 1. Addie and Hollie work well together and have a legitimate shot at going to state."

Lenzi and Taylor will also see action at No. 2 and No. 3 singles. Sophomores Nikki Petrillo and Jennifer Hitt, junior Amy Isenburg and senior Nikki Urioste will be shuttled in and out of the Nos. 4 through 6 slots. Freshman Nicole Celinka also figures to see playing time.

Aside from Nicole, of course, they've all seen some varsity action, Lobdell said. "I think they can pick up a win here and there to keep us close."

As for Granite City's Southwestern Conference hopes, Lobdell has conceded first and second to perennial powers Belleville East and West. In addition to losing Weckman, the Warriors are without junior Missy Croak, who was unbeaten in the regular season as a sophomore in 1989. She transferred to Belleville West, where she will be anywhere from third to sixth with the Maroons. That's how deep West is.

"West and East are just too strong," Lobdell said. "We should finish at least third. If we hold our own against Alton, Collinsville and East St. Louis, then we'll be in good shape."

Without a dominant freshman or sophomore waiting in the wings, this would appear to be the beginning of a rebuilding program.

"I'm doubtful about the program in the future," said Lobdell. "The girls we have now are enthusiastic and look forward to playing. But looking down the road, we don't have a younger player who can make an immediate impact. With the conference we play in, that could mean some hard times."
